"Every time we tell our child's story or speak their name, or share their photo, whether online or in person, we are perhaps shining a light in the darkness for someone else, paving a path forward where grief is not unspeakable and love becomes the way to navigate through loss."

~Brooke Taylor Duckworth

This group is led by Roxie Kaminski. All new prospective participants are requested to contact Laura Wassinger at (815) 338-0125 before attending for further information.
